

2011 NMUN-New York (Sheraton)

The National Model United Nations has established a number of criteria for evaluating delegation performance across all assigned committees. Each element – remaining in character, participating in committee and proper use of the rules of procedure – is equally important to the overall awards determination process. For delegations awards, NMUN staff in each committee selects outstanding participants for each session. All committees are weighted equally and delegations are rated based on a mathematical formula that includes the total number of committees represented by the individual Member State. A complete explanation is found at www.nmun.org. Similarly, Position Paper Awards recognize consistency of quality across committees. Outstanding preparation and participation in committees for which there was a separate application, the International Court of Justice and the Summit of the Americas, are recognized through peer-selected awards only.

Overall delegation awards include Position Paper Awards and the categories of: Honorable Mention, Distinguished Delegation, and Outstanding Delegation which recognize work during NMUN. These and individual committee awards voted on my delegates in committee are listed below in alphabetical order.

Awards Philosophy

No one can observe every action in committee or truly judge an individual's learning and growth. We believe participation in the simulation is its own reward. It advances understanding of the UN and contemporary international issues, and it has changed the lives of many delegates. We urge participants to maintain an appropriate perspective regarding the awards. The fundamental basis of the simulation is collaboration and cooperation among nations, which includes working together through multilateral diplomacy. There are no winners and certainly no losers.
