Prevention measures against COVID-19

COVID-19 Mask Use in Community Settings

- It is important to wear a mask as a basic prevention measure against COVID-19. Your action will protect everyone's health.
- You do not need to wear a mask outdoors when you are approximately 2 meters apart from others, or when you are not talking at a distance of less than 2 meters.
- You do not need to wear a mask indoors when you are approximately 2 meters apart from others and when you are not talking.

Wear a Mask in Crowded Areas
(e.g. Public Transit)

Wear a mask while meeting with the elderly or spending time in hospitals.
Refrain from going out if you have cold-like symptoms.

Remove your mask if you do not need it outdoors, to prevent heat stroke in summer.

Kobe Port Earthquake Memorial Park / Meriken Park

At 5:46 a.m. on January 17, 1995, a magnitude 7.3 earthquake struck Awaji Island, Hyogo Prefecture near Kobe City.

The earthquake resulted in many fires, which caused 6,434 deaths, 3 people missing, and 43,792 injured.

Volunteers rushed to the area from all over Japan in response to the earthquake, and a total of approximately 1.37 million volunteers worked in the year following the earthquake. As a result, 1995 is widely recognized as the "first year of volunteerism" because of the importance of disaster relief volunteers.

As an earthquake-prone country, Japan is committed to disaster prevention, and it is customary for children to participate in annual evacuation drills at elementary, junior high, and high schools.
