NATIONAL MODEL UNITED NATIONS

nmun.org 20–27 November
NMUN advances understanding of the UN and contemporary global issues through quality educational programs that emphasize collaboration and cooperative conflict resolution and prepare participants for active global citizenship.

NMUN programs require college and university students to apply their academic knowledge actively while simulating the work of diplomats in experiential learning programs that demand their collaboration with their peers from various nations to craft negotiated solutions to current global problems. Students must research, craft, and then advocate positions with which they may or may not agree. Participants strengthen through practice the skills of listening, persuasion, and negotiating while developing a deeper capacity for empathy and creative problem-solving.

Thank you for taking part in this Model United Nations conference and for believing in the power of global cooperation to solve global problems.

We need your engagement and ideas today more than ever.

Conflict, poverty, hunger, and inequalities are on the rise.

A surge of mistrust and misinformation is polarizing people and paralyzing societies.

Human rights are under assault.

And the triple planetary crisis – climate disruption, pollution, and catastrophic biodiversity loss – is threatening lives and livelihoods everywhere.

But we can turn things around.

Humanity has shown time and again that we are capable of great things when we work together – across geographies and generations.

To do so, we need an inclusive and networked multilateralism – one that ensures young people have a seat and a say in shaping our common future.

We need your creativity, courage, and commitment.

I draw hope from seeing your generation challenge the status quo and call for transformative change.

The United Nations is your steadfast ally in striving to build a more just, sustainable, inclusive, and peaceful world for all.

Thank you.

António Guterres
Secretary-General of the United Nations

Message from Prime Minister Kishida to NMUN • Japan

I would like to congratulate the hosting of the Model United Nations, which is held in-person in Kobe City, for the first time since the outbreak of COVID-19.

Seventy-seven years have passed since the establishment of the United Nations, yet we are still witnessing the war in Ukraine and crises around the world. Now is the time to return to the fundamental vision and principles of the UN Charter, and mobilize our wisdom to maintain peace and security as well as to realize an international community where all people can enjoy the economic and social development. In this regard, I have high expectations for all of you, the future leaders of the world, to have insightful and lively discussions on current global issues at this NMUN conference.

At the General Debate of the 77th Session of the United Nations General Assembly held in NY this September, I declared Japan’s determination to realize the vision of the UN, focusing on the following three pillars; the reform of the UN and the strengthening of its functions, the rule of law, and the concept of human security in the new era. From next January, Japan will serve as a non-permanent member of the Security Council for two years. By listening not only to the loud voices but also being attentive to the weak voices, Japan will take actions to contribute to maintaining peace and security of the international community.

I also welcome your visit to my hometown Hiroshima as part of the NMUN programs, under the theme of “Promoting a Just Peace in the 21st century”. I sincerely hope that all of you will move forward together with Japan towards a world without nuclear weapons, by learning firsthand the realities of nuclear weapons use.

I sincerely hope that each one of you will build on the experience and lessons learnt from the NMUN to succeed in your future endeavors, and that your youth network strengthened through this NMUN program will continue to grow into the bright future of yours.

KISHIDA Fumio
Prime Minister of Japan
Dear Delegates, Honorable Special Guests, and Esteemed Faculty Members,

On behalf of the entire NMUN • Japan team, Organizing Committee, Kobe City University of Foreign Studies, and NMUN Board, I would like to extend my warm welcome to all of you coming to Kobe, Japan on NMUN’s 95th anniversary.

Although we were first selected as hosts of NMUN • Japan six years ago, we had to postpone this event for two years. However, we are truly honored to host the very first international NMUN conference after the COVID-19 pandemic. Kobe has been an international city full of diversity since the establishment of Kobe Port over 155 years ago. With the NMUN • Japan conference returning and the pandemic calming down, we are all grateful to see Kobe as lively as it has always been.

Kobe City University of Foreign Studies has been organizing this conference with the partnership of NMUN in hopes that the experience gained from this conference will raise a new wave of youthful leaders who will build a bright future.

The theme of our conference is timely and personal; as Japan is the only country to have experienced the horror of nuclear weapons, we believe that the stories of those who have suffered and survived should never be forgotten. This legacy should be passed on to the younger generations of today and tomorrow. At the same time, we believe that the horrors of war and conflict should not be the only impetus for “Peace”-- we must strive for peace through the understanding of many elements and from different perspectives.

Today, we are facing a major turning point in history. The aggression against Ukraine has threatened the peace and security of the world. The negative impact of the COVID pandemic to human health and regional economies continues to be of deep concern. The acceleration of climate change has had a range of devastating impacts on food and water insecurities, and has forced many people to be displaced from their homes. The proliferation of hate speech has fueled discrimination, intolerance, racism, sexism, and homophobia that violate human rights. All of these elements matter when we consider “Peace”.

Throughout this conference, we would like you to discover what “Peace” is, and to further your understanding through learning, observing history, and by discussing the crucial elements of peace. We know that NMUN • Japan 2022 will be a life-changing experience for all participants. You will recognize your own growth by having first-hand experiences via your visits to Kobe, Hiroshima, and Kyoto, and by having the opportunity to strengthen your network with the distinguished delegates at this conference.

Stay safe, stay healthy, and have fun!

Peace,

Keisha Hikita
Secretary-General, NMUN • Japan 2022

Expectations of Conduct

Our intention is to create an environment at National Model United Nations (NMUN) that supports our educational mission. Professionalism in speech, actions, and appearance by all participants (delegates, head delegates, faculty, delegation leaders, guests, secretaries, staff, and board members) is a requirement of all NMUN conferences. These guidelines are provided to help establish clear expectations.

Disrespectful behaviors in committee should first be addressed by attendees directly with one another or through their faculty advisor or head delegate. Repeated instances of undiplomatic behavior may be called to the attention of organizers by faculty advisors or head delegates through Information Services. Larger concerns, such as sexual harassment or discrimination issues, may be referred to conference organizers. Any instances of sexual violence should minimally be referred to conference organizers. Organizers may be contacted through volunteer staff in committee or directly through Information Services.

NMUN reserves the right to bar violators from further committee or directly through Information Services.

Our intention is to create an environment at National Model United Nations (NMUN) that supports our educational mission. Professionalism in speech, actions, and appearance by all participants (delegates, head delegates, faculty, delegation leaders, guests, secretaries, staff, and board members) is a requirement of all NMUN conferences. These guidelines are provided to help establish clear expectations.

Everyone

- Treat everyone, including non-NMUN hotel guests with the highest level of courtesy and respect at all times, including on social media and in electronic communications.
- Enjoy the variety of activities available at our conference venues. Please bear in mind, however, that the purpose of being here is participation in NMUN.
- Disruption of committee sessions or causing problems in the hotel or other facilities will not be tolerated.
- Respect academic integrity; plagiarism will not be tolerated.
- Alcohol is not allowed in any of our committee sessions. If you are going to drink, please drink responsibly. Excessive alcohol consumption should be avoided. The legal drinking age in Japan is 20.
- Possession or use of illicit drugs is prohibited at all times. Any issues related to illicit drugs may be directed to the attention of local authorities.
- Follow the Dress Code while attending conference events.
- Respect the property of our host hotels, and any other facilities used. Keep in mind that our faculty partners have separate policies that include the potential for removal from their properties.

Delegates

- Remain in character by consistently advocating the interests and representing the policies of the country assigned. To act in character also entails displaying respect for the opinions and ideas of fellow delegates, even if these opinions and ideas conflict with a given delegate’s own country’s priorities.
- Collaborate with fellow delegates whenever possible.

Head Delegates

- If assigned to a committee, follow the delegates expectations. If serving solely in an advisory role, follow the faculty expectations.
- Attend and participate in any head delegates meetings.

Faculty Advisors

- Make efforts to ensure that students maintain a positive and professional approach to the conference and help them understand the skills of diplomacy as practiced at NMUN.
- Serve as information resources when appropriate, but do not participate in the actual writing of resolutions or caucusing activities; participation in the committee process must be left to the student delegates and the conference volunteer staff.
- Quietly observe your students from the back of committee rooms.
- Refrain from using academic credit and grading policies that force participation beyond a country’s normal position in the UN; awards should not be a delegation’s main emphasis.
- Attend and participate in any faculty advisors meetings.

Guests

- Guests are required to adhere to the same expectations as all other conference attendees.
- Guests serve as observers.
- Guests may not be enrolled university students or faculty advisors and do not provide any support to a delegation. A guest is typically a school official, spouse / partner / child of a faculty advisor, or a funder who is interested in learning about NMUN.

Undiplomatic Behavior, Sexual Harassment, Discrimination, and Sexual Violence

Disrespectful behaviors in committee should first be addressed by attendees directly with one another or through their faculty advisor or head delegate. Repeated instances of undiplomatic behavior may be called to the attention of organizers by faculty advisors or head delegates through Information Services.

Sexual harassment and discrimination based on race, gender, sexual orientation, national origin, religion, age, or disability are not acceptable. Such acts are incompatible with NMUN’s educational mission and are a violation of our Conduct Expectations. General descriptions of behavior that may be considered sexual harassment can be found in the UN’s Code of Conduct.

Anywho believes they have seen or encountered sexual harassment or discrimination should bring it to NMUN’s attention. We will investigate the merits of the allegations and respond appropriately. Outcomes may include issuing a verbal reprimand, expelling violators from the conference without compensation, barring violators from future NMUN involvement, or any other action deemed appropriate.

Sexual violence, which includes rape and sexual assault, is a crime in the U.S. and Japan punishable under the criminal justice system. Anyone who believes they are the victim of sexual violence, are at risk of experiencing sexual violence, or have witnessed actual or attempted sexual violence, should, in Japan, contact law enforcement by calling 1-1-0 and notify NMUN. We will notify the appropriate authorities if not already contacted. To ensure the safety of all NMUN participants, we will immediately remove potential violators from the conference and take further action. We encourage all participants to review their campus sexual violence handbook for further information on sexual violence and resources available for victims.

Dress Code

All clothing must portray professionalism as expected in diplomatic settings. If attire is deemed inappropriate by NMUN staff, individuals may be asked to leave the session and return with appropriate attire.

Professional business attire is a business jacket, dress shirt, tie, slacks / skirt / dress, and dress shoes. Professional dress expectations require that dresses and skirts be knee length. Delegates should be dressed in professional business attire that reflects their self-identified gender.

- Clothing considered too casual includes sweaters, novelty jackets, shorts, sundresses / other casual dresses, ball caps, jeans, sneakers, athletic wear, and sunglasses. Clothing that exposes excessive bare skin, shows undergarments, or is otherwise revealing is inappropriate.

- It is not appropriate to display any school or national symbols such as flags, pins, Crests, etc. on your person during sessions. All UN symbols are acceptable.

- Traditional dress is permitted only for delegations in whose home countries it is considered professional business dress. NMUN will not tolerate any attempt to portray a character using traditional cultural attire as a costume.

Faculty advisors, delegation leaders, guests, and volunteer staff serve as role models for delegates. They too are required to dress in professional business attire while participating in scheduled conference sessions.

Safety & Security

Your safety and security are your personal responsibility. Take full advantage of this unique opportunity in a responsible manner. Please do not leave your computer or other personal electronic devices unattended. NMUN will not be responsible for conference badges when leaving the hotel. Refrain from any sort of substance abuse. Use common sense.

In the event of an emergency in the hotel, follow their guidelines. Emergency preparedness experts recommend having a designated meeting spot outside the hotel and sharing cell phone numbers amongst members of your delegation.

Awards Criteria
NMUN has established Awards Criteria to evaluate delegate performance. Each element is equally important to the overall awards determination process. All committees are weighted equally and delegations are rated on a mathematical formula in relation to the total number of committees represented by the individual member state. Areas of evaluation comprise the following:

- Remaining in character — advocate for your assigned country's position in a manner consistent with its economic, social, and geopolitical constraints.
- Participating in committee — during both formal sessions and informal caucuses.
- Using the NMUN Rules properly — facilitate effective workings of the committee and debate; do not impede it.
Moderator:
Mr. Tetsuo Kondo has been the Director of the Representation Office in Tokyo for the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) since 2014. He served as Country Director, UNDP Chad; Deputy Resident Representative Programme / Operations, UNDP Kosovo; Senior Humanitarian Coordination Advisor, United Nations Mission in Timor-Leste; Senior Advisor, UNDP Regional Centre in Bangkok; Special Advisor to the Special Representative of the UN Secretary-General, UN Mission for Assistance to Iraq, Amman, and Bagdad; Special Advisor / Senior Programme Advisor, Bureau for Resources and Strategic Partnerships; and UNDP, New York. Before joining UNDP, he held positions with the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Japan.

Panelists:
Ms. Yumiko Horie is Director of Policy, Advocacy, and Campaigns, Save the Children Japan. In 2002, she joined the international NGO working on international programs management and corporate fundraising, and since 2010 she has engaged in advocacy for promoting child rights in international development processes, ODA policy, as well as domestic policy. Previously, she has worked at Kyodo News Service, and at International Volunteers of Yamagata.

Ms. Hiroe Ono serves as the Senior Deputy Director General, Middle East and Europe Department, JICA Headquarters. Panel Discussion: Towards Sustainable Peace
Wednesday, 23 November; 10:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m., Portopia Hall, South Wing, Portopia Hotel

Closing Remarks: Education for Peace – Constant Efforts of International Society and Japan
Saturday, 26 November; 3:00 p.m. – 4:30 p.m., Portopia Hall, South Wing, Portopia Hotel

In the international society, education has been considered an important cornerstone for peace. UNESCO was founded as an international organization to construct “the defenses of peace” in the minds of men” and peace has been a historical normative goal of international cooperation in education for the world and for Japan. However, achieving peace through education is not an easy process. It requires the understanding, constant effort, and cooperation of many people and stakeholders. Let us reconsider the activities of Model United Nations from this perspective of education for peace.

Professor Kazuo Kuroda is a Professor in the Graduate School of Asia-Pacific Studies at Waseda University. Currently, he also serves as Visiting Research Fellow at the JICA Ogata Sadako Research Institute for Peace and Development, as well as the Chair of Research Standing Committee of World Council of Comparative Education Societies (WCCEES). He held positions at the Overseas Development Council in Washington, D.C., the World Bank and Hiroshima University. He has formally held various policy and administrative positions at Member of Japanese National Commission for UNESCO, Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology (MEXT) Committees, Visiting Professor at the University of Tokyo. He was awarded U21 Award by UNIVERSITAS 21 in 2019 for his contribution for internationalization of higher education. Professor Kuroda graduated from Waseda University (B.A., 1989), Stanford University (M.A., 1993) and Cornell University (Ph.D., 1996). His most recent edited book publication is Japan’s International Cooperation in Education: History and Prospect (2022) by Springer.
PEACE FOR ALL

100% OF PROFITS WILL HELP PEOPLE AROUND THE WORLD. JOIN THE MOVEMENT.

The world needs peace now more than ever. With just a simple T-shirt, we can help make the world a better place. Introducing the UNIQLO UT PEACE FOR ALL project: an ongoing collection of T-shirts designed by world-renowned leaders in art, design, literature, science and sport. 100% of profits will go towards international organizations that aid those affected by poverty, discrimination, violence, conflict and natural disasters. By wearing these T-shirts, we can share our hope for world peace and a future where everyone can live in safety.

UNIQLO* parent company Fast Retailing Co., Ltd. will donate all profits (no less than 20% of the selling price) equally among UNHCR, Save the Children and Plan International Inc.
