THE SECRETARY-GENERAL

MESSAGE TO THE NATIONAL MODEL UNITED NATIONS

New York, 1 – 7 April 2012

You meet at a time of great challenge and transition. Our world faces an increasingly complex set of realities, from rising joblessness to growing inequality to the increasing dangers of climate change. Many people are disillusioned with the established order; there is distrust in institutions; and a general sense that the playing field is tilted in favour of entrenched interests and elites.

We need to forge a common agenda that can help ensure that future generations grow up in a world of sustainable peace, prosperity, freedom and justice. To help build this future, I have set out an action agenda that focuses on five imperatives: first, sustainable development; second, preventing conflicts, damage from disasters and human rights abuses; third, building a more secure world; fourth, supporting countries in transition; and fifth, working with and for women and youth.

The world's young people have a crucial role to play across our agenda. You are part of the largest generation of young people our world has ever known – and in our times, we have seen young people turn the tide of history.

Yet opportunities for youth are falling short. Youth unemployment rates are at record levels. Many are stuck in low-wage, dead-end work, despite having college degrees. We must work together to expand economic and political empowerment to help young people make the most of their enormous potential. I will appoint a new United Nations Special Representative for Youth to help spearhead our efforts.

I am counting on your continued leadership and engagement. By participating in this Model United Nations, you will hone your negotiating skills and gain insights into what it takes to achieve consensus and progress. Armed with these assets, you can mobilize and engage on the major issues of our day. From raising awareness through Facebook and Twitter to joining forces in other ways with like-minded students from around the world, you can make your voices heard and drive political and social change.

This is an era of great uncertainty, but also one of profound opportunity for individuals to make a difference. The human family now has seven billion members. Please help us build the future we want. I wish you great success at this Model UN, and I hope the experience will inspire you to support the United Nations and our global work for peace, justice, human rights and sustainable development for years to come.

Ban Ki-moon

1 April 2012

Dear Delegates, Advisors, Staff, and Friends:

On behalf of the volunteer Secretariat for the 2012 National Model United Nations Conference, it gives me great pleasure to welcome you to New York City and to this year's session of the largest collegiate Model UN conference in the world.

For more than a half-century, this annual gathering has been an opportunity to face many of the most challenging and complex issues plaguing our brothers and sisters around the world. It is also a chance to forge friendships, alliances, and consensus with a diverse group of delegates whose worldview is inevitably and beautifully different from our own. In so doing, we spark a desire to develop solutions while expanding our understanding of how to find common ground with people whose similarities to us far outweigh their differences. Our global future is intertwined.

Your experience may be a simulation of the United Nations, but it is by no means an imitation. In the years to come many of you will fill the positions of decision and responsibility that we replicate only for a few days each Spring. The skills, networks and global perspectives that you develop at this conference are what you will need to resolve these very same issues in your own countries and working together across borders.

Our theme this year is "Hope for Lasting Peace." With the uncertainty and unrest that make daily headlines, many are prone to fear and pessimism; with more than 5,000 delegates coming together this week to create pragmatic solutions based on timeless ideals, I am more optimistic than ever.

Thank you for your preparation and participation. Have a fantastic week!

Most sincerely,

Andrew N. Ludlow
Secretary-General, 2012 National Model United Nations Conference

For more than 40 years, the National Collegiate Conference Association has sponsored experience-based educational programs like NMUN that further the understanding of the United Nations and contemporary international problems.

NMUN•NY 2012 will bring more than 5,000 delegates from six continents to New York City. This conference includes 20 committees as well as a Security Council for unaffiliated delegates. Prominent past speakers have included Susan E. Rice, Hillary Clinton, Michael Ignatieff and UN Secretaries-General Ban Ki-moon and Kofi Annan.

NMUN offers a unique opportunity for students to better understand the inner workings of the United Nations while building skills in diplomacy and compromise. College students and advisors from all over the world work feverishly to propose resolutions addressing regional conflicts, peacekeeping, human rights, women and children, economic and social development, and the environment. A diverse group of informed participants is given a forum in which to discuss global concerns in a context that closely parallels the “real world.” The NMUN Conference is one of the most effective tools for teaching students the dynamics of multilateral diplomacy and international relations.

NMUN holds successful annual conferences in New York City and Washington, DC. We have achieved ground-breaking milestones through international conferences. Simulations in the past four years have been held in China, Ecuador, Czech Republic, and France. Thank you to our partner organizations for their vision and support of our mission - Osgood Center for International Studies, Northwestern Polytechnical University, Universidad San Francisco de Quito, Palacký University, and Science Po Lille. We look forward to future conference partnerships and welcome your inquiry into potential opportunities.

The National Collegiate Conference Association (NCCA) is a 501(c)3 nonprofit, educational organization. The NCCA is also a Non-Governmental Organization associated with the United Nations Department of Public Information.

OSGOOD CENTER FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDIES

Premier Short-term Programs in the Heart of Washington, DC & Internationally

THE INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS CONFERENCE: JULY 1-12, 2012

A 10-day exploration of the international political economy. Visit the World Bank, the IMF, the International Trade Commission and famous think tanks. Discuss the lingering effects of the international financial crisis, the emerging international economic order, the rise of China and India, the Euro-Debt Crisis and more. Learn how international businesses – from cars to energy to services operate. Best of all, meet future leaders among the other IBC participants.

THE SUMMER SYMPOSIUM ON FOREIGN POLICY: AUG. 5-16, 2012

Our flagship program, the Summer Symposium, brings together participants from around the globe in Washington, DC to discuss hot topics and meet newsmakers in International Politics. This year we will focus on the implications of the 2012 US Presidential Election on US Foreign Policy, and take a deeper look into America's recent "pivot" towards Asia. Other topics include the implications of the Euro-Debt crisis, and the continuing turmoil in the Middle East.

MODEL ASIA-PACIFIC ECONOMIC COOPERATION CONFERENCE IN GUANGZHOU, CHINA: MAY 19-25, 2012

We are proud to announce the 2012 Model Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation, held at the Guangdong University of Foreign Studies in Guangzhou, China! Throughout this conference, students and delegates will represent the Member Economies of this dynamic region in discussing wide-reaching technical, political, and economic issues affecting this critical part of the world.

NMUN needs volunteer staff to research topics, facilitate committees and help to organize the conference. NMUN offers training, provides New York hotel accommodations and helps pay for travel expenses (based on zones).

WHY VOLUNTEER?

- Build your résumé! – We offer publishing credit for the written background materials and professional experience organizing and staffing the world's largest university-level simulation of the United Nations.
- Build skills in facilitation of debate, conflict resolution, and customer service while learning alongside delegates about global issues.
- Form lifelong friendships with other volunteers.

WHO VOLUNTEERS?

We seek enthusiastic NMUN alumni from around the world willing to help organize future NMUNs. Many staff members are current undergraduate or graduate students.

Be part of an international volunteer staff committed to the ideals of the United Nations!

The National Collegiate Conference Association (NCCA) prepares college students to be better global citizens. These experiences are valuable for student delegates and advisors. However, financial constraints often are a barrier to participation for both student participants and volunteer staff members. Thanks to our donors, listed below, we are able to reduce some financial barriers. We invite contributions from individuals, corporations and foundations. For U.S. residents, your donation is tax deductible as a charitable contribution. Visit nmun.org to learn more online.

Recognizing Commitment

NMUN-NY

RECOGNIZING COMMITMENT TO THE NATIONAL MODEL UNITED NATIONS

Here we recognize those institutions for which participation is a school tradition. The long-term support of these schools reflects the hard work and dedication of advisors, students and administrators. It shows commitment to experiential learning opportunities like NMUN as well as the ideals embodied by the United Nations.

The NCCA, sponsor of the NMUN, is greatly indebted to many of these schools and their advisors for their leadership in continuing to enhance the conference. We look forward to welcoming more schools to this listing in the future as new institutions start a NMUN tradition and returning schools continue to build a legacy.

DELEGATES

While participating in the National Model UN conference, delegates have a responsibility to always maintain the highest level of professionalism and diplomacy. Conference staff, advisors and fellow delegates should be treated with the highest level of courtesy and respect. Professionalism in speech, actions, and appearance by delegates is a requirement of this conference, and necessary to its educational mission. It is assumed that all delegates will respect the property of the United Nations and the host hotels.

NMUN reserves the right to restrict future registration for any participant or school, whose delegates or advisors are not able to uphold their responsibility to the conference’s code of conduct.

Delegates are expected to:

- Remain “in character” by consistently advocating the interests and representing the policies of the country assigned. To act “in character” also entails displaying respect for the opinions and ideals of fellow delegates, even if these opinions and ideals conflict with a given delegate’s own country priorities.
- Collaborate with fellow delegates when possible.
- Be courteous and professional at all times.

Delegates who disrupt committee sessions or create problems may be barred from further participation in the conference:

- Please drink responsibly. Excessive alcohol consumption should be avoided. The US legal drinking age is 21.
- The consumption of alcohol and other drugs in committee sessions is forbidden.
- Any issues related to illicit drugs will be immediately directed to the attention of local authorities.

Delegates are encouraged to enjoy the variety of nighttime activities available. Please bear in mind, however, the purpose of your participation in NMUN.

HEAD DELEGATES

Head delegates provide leadership to their delegates and to other delegations by serving as information resources. They should attend and participate in head delegate meetings. Head delegates may be assigned to a committee or may serve solely in an advisory role. Head delegates assigned to a committee should observe the delegate code of conduct. Those not assigned to a particular committee should interact with delegates as would an advisor.

ADVISORS

The role of advisors, while at the conference, is to make all efforts to see that their students maintain a positive and professional approach to the conference. The educational quality of the conference is primarily dependent on all delegates’ active and professional participation. Advisors can ensure this by monitoring their students’ attendance at committee meetings and helping them understand the skills of diplomacy as practiced at National Model UN. Advisors must maintain the highest level of professionalism toward all conference participants and staff.

During the conference, advisors are encouraged to advise students on specific questions such as a state’s policy or issues of international law, but must not participate in the actual writing of resolutions or caucusing activities. NMUN allows students an opportunity to demonstrate their preparation and research skills. While advisors are encouraged to observe their students from the back of committee rooms, participation in the committee process must be left to the student delegates and the conference staff.

Advisors are expected to:

- Provide leadership to their delegates and to other delegations by serving as information resources when appropriate.
- Respond to questions and concerns without interfering with the work of the committees or the deliberations of delegates, whether in formal session or in caucus.
- Refrain from using academic credit and grading policies that force participation beyond that country’s normal position in the UN.
- Remind their delegates of the educational purpose of the simulation. Awards should not be a delegation’s main emphasis.
- Attend and participate in advisor meetings.
- Offer suggestions and assistance to new advisors.

DRESS CODE

All clothing must adhere to guidelines that portray professionalism and modesty. If a delegate’s attire is deemed inappropriate by NMUN staff, the delegate will be asked to leave the session and return with appropriate attire.

- Standard delegate attire for the conference is business jacket, slacks (or skirts for women), dress shirt (with tie for men) and dress shoes.
- Dress sweaters, shorts, ball caps, jeans, sneakers and sunglasses are considered too casual. Clothes that expose excessive bare skin or are otherwise revealing are inappropriate.
- It is not appropriate for delegates to display any national symbols such as flags, pins, crests, etc. on their person during sessions. UN symbols are acceptable.

Western business dress is preferred. Traditional dress is only permitted for international delegates in whose native countries “professional business dress” includes traditional cultural dress. NMUN will not tolerate any delegate’s attempt to portray a “character” using traditional cultural attire as costume.

As role models for delegates, volunteer staff, advisors and guests are required to dress in western business attire while participating in scheduled conference sessions.

SEXUAL HARASSMENT / DISCRIMINATION POLICY

It is the intention of the NCCA that the environment of National Model United Nations supports our educational goal. The organizers will not tolerate any instances of discrimination based on race, color, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, religion, age or disability.

If any delegate, staff or advisor believes they have encountered discrimination, which results in a hostile working environment or disparate treatment, they must bring it to the attention of the Secretary-General of the conference. In the event that this is not possible, they must bring it to the attention of the organizers. The NCCA will investigate the merits of the allegations, interviewing all parties involved.

Based on the findings, organizers may:

- take no action
- issue a verbal reprimand
- separate the individual from the conference
- implement any other action deemed appropriate

DELEGATION AWARDS

National Model United Nations has established criteria for evaluating delegate performance. Each element is equally important to the overall awards determination process. All committees are weighted equally, and delegations are rated on a mathematical formula in relation to the total number of committees represented by the individual Member State.

Areas of evaluation are:

- Remaining in character – defined as advocating your assigned country’s position in a manner consistent with economic, social and geopolitical constraints.
- Participating in committee – evaluated both during formal sessions and caucusing.
- Proper use of the rules of procedure – NMUN uses the rules of procedure to facilitate effective workings of committee and debate.

See nmun.org for information on the procedure for addressing code of conduct violations.

CONFERENCE SERVICES PROCEDURE

1. A maximum of two delegates will be allowed in Conference Services to work on each resolution at any one time. Delegates are expected to write their resolutions outside of the lab, and bring them in for typing or revision.

NOTE: Delegates are generally seated on a first-come, first-served basis. Delegates from committees not already working at a computer in the lab will be given preference when the lab is full. The USG for Conference Services reserves the authority to grant an earlier place in line to a delegate.

2. There will be no food and/or beverages allowed in Conference Services.
3. Internet resources are only for research use. Delegates will not be permitted to check their e-mail.
4. Delegates entering Conference Services must register at the door and leave their delegate badge in order to use the computers. Once a delegate has finished typing, s/he should print and save the resolution according to the posted guidelines. Delegates will then be able to retrieve their delegate badges on the way out.
5. Photocopies will be made for the delegates at a charge of $.10 per copy. Working papers and resolutions approved by the Director of the committee will be copied free of charge.

COMPUTERS IN COMMITTEE

While laptop computers are allowed in committee during informal session, their use during formal session (when delegates are speaking) should be limited to the hallway (or the back of the room in large rooms). The spirit of this policy is to avoid disruption of and show respect for the speaker.

CHANGES TO SPEAKERS TIME

Speakers time is set on the first night to 2 minutes (except General Assembly / full-size bodies where it is 90 seconds due to size and number of speeches). No motions to change the time on the first night will be accepted.

No unsolicited motions on speaking time will be accepted during the rest of the week. If members feel that the time needs to be changed to improve flow of debate or hear more speeches, they should approach the dais – and if the chair agrees, the chair will call for a motion. No motions will be taken from the floor.

The Master of Arts in Global Development and Peace

As the world becomes more dynamic and complex, there is an increasing demand for individuals who are prepared to navigate relationships on a global level. The University of Bridgeport's new Master of Arts in Global Development and Peace does just this by preparing future civil leaders and business professionals for careers in diplomacy, foreign affairs and global management. UB's program gives its students access to internships and career opportunities in places like the United Nations, the World Bank, and think tanks in Washington D.C.

If you want to make a difference in the world around you and are serious about pursuing a career in international relations, UB's Master of Arts in Global Development and Peace will prepare you with its intensive program. Evening schedules are available, and UB also offers a variety of scholarship opportunities.

Our simulation kit provides tools for Faculty Advisors and student leaders to teach others about the Model UN experience. This includes details on how to run a class, write resolutions, caucusing exercises, and more. This kit provides all the materials you need to simulate the General Assembly, the Economic and Social Council, and the Security Council.

United Nations DVD Series:

In conjunction with the Ambassador's Club at the United Nations, AMUN is proud to offer five different videos on the internal workings of the United Nations. Discover the UN anew with interviews from ambassadors and secretariat members. Our first DVD deals with the mechanics of UN diplomacy. Our other DVDs take an in-depth look at some of the issues the UN faces every year. These educational DVDs are great for the classroom too.

NMUN•NY delegations are invited to creatively showcase their preparation and participation through a video contest. The NMUN YouTube channel contains winning entries from 2011, as well as a professional video made by two NMUN•NY alumni. All entries captured the enthusiasm and learning present at the conference. Enjoy these submissions and feel free to use them on your campus to recruit new students and report to your funders. We look forward to this year's contest for NMUN•NY 2012. Download the entry information at nmun.org/nmun\_ny.html.

Selected by School Library Journal as “one of the best adult books for high school students”

In this second edition, Linda Fasulo, a longtime independent correspondent for NPR, provides a lively, comprehensive, and authoritative guide to the United Nations, featuring candid insights from leading US and UN diplomats and officials.

$17 paperback available wherever books are sold

“Fasulo brings to the fore the issues and controversies that surround today’s United Nations, adeptly simplifying without dumbing down.”

– Ambassador Joseph H. Melrose, Jr., former President, Board of Directors, National Model UN

“Linda Fasulo’s book will become the indispensable source on the United Nations for everyone from students to diplomats. I keep it handy on my desk.”

– Joseph S. Nye, Kennedy School of Government, Harvard University

“An excellent introduction to the work of the UN and a valuable tool for anyone who wants to understand the complexities of the Organization in a clear and highly readable style.”

– Heraldo Munoz, Ambassador of Chile to the United Nations
