UNITED NATIONS

NATIONS UNIES

THE SECRETARY-GENERAL

MESSAGE TO NATIONAL MODEL UNITED NATIONS (NMUN•NY)
New York, 18-22 and 25-29 March 2018

Thank you for taking part in the Model United Nations. I appreciate your commitment to our global mission of peace, sustainable development and human rights.

Our world today enjoys remarkable opportunities to advance common progress. The 17 Sustainable Development Goals are our blueprint for dignity, prosperity and a healthy planet.

But “we the peoples” also face many complex challenges. Armed conflicts have deepened. Global anxieties about nuclear weapons are the highest since the Cold War. Climate change is moving faster than we are. Inequality and nationalism are on the rise, while trust and solidarity are on the decline.

These problems and challenges are increasingly global – and increasingly grave.

We need less hatred, more dialogue and deeper international cooperation. Multilateralism is more important than ever. Empowering the world’s young people is also an imperative.

We must do more to enable young people to shape the decisions affecting their lives. Your potential is the world’s potential. As you stand up for our shared values, the United Nations stands with you.

Please accept my best wishes for a successful Model United Nations Conference.

António Guterres

Volunteer with NMUN

Join our volunteer staff - committed to the ideals of the United Nations!

We seek enthusiastic NMUN alumni from around the globe who are willing to help organize the world's largest university-level simulation of the United Nations. Many of our volunteer staff members are current undergraduate or graduate students.

We need volunteers with expertise in research, committee management, and conference organization.

You will build skills in facilitation of debate, conflict resolution, and customer service while learning alongside delegates about global issues. You will also form lifelong friendships with other volunteers.

We offer in-depth training, provide hotel accommodations, and help pay for most travel expenses.

Apply at: nmun.org/get-involved/volunteer.html

THE 2018 NATIONAL MODEL UNITED NATIONS

New York City, 18 - 22 March and 25 - 29 March

Dear Delegates, Faculty Advisors, Guests, and Friends,

We are honored to welcome you to the 2018 National Model United Nations New York (NMUN•NY) Conference! Over the next two weeks, over 5,000 delegates from around the world will gather together to participate in NMUN and discuss key global issues within our world. After months of preparation, research, and writing, you will now put into action what you have learned, as you embody the diplomatic and collaborative spirit of the United Nations (UN).

The theme for this year's conference is "Transform Our World." Since the establishment of the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) in 2000 and through the current Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), the global community has made significant developments in the status of women, men, youth, and children worldwide; however, much still remains to be accomplished in order to ensure that every person, as GA resolution 70/1 states, "can enjoy prosperous and fulfilling lives." Many global citizens experience poverty and face discrimination and instability due to who they are or where they are from. Our conference theme this year focuses on how we can each positively contribute to transforming our world through our commitment to the goals found within the SDGs, our engagement within our communities, and through supporting one another as fellow global citizens.

We hope that throughout the conference you will incorporate this year's theme and look for ways that you can transform our world through the ideas you discuss within your committees and in the proposals you make in your working papers. While NMUN is a simulation of the work of the UN, the topics you are discussing are real, and the proposals that you make will be concrete examples of how we can each transform our world for the better. As you work together with your fellow delegates, we encourage you to create a collaborative and inclusive environment that welcomes and supports all. UN Secretary-General António Guterres emphasized at the opening of the 72nd General Assembly that "this is far more an era of transformational potential"; we look forward to seeing your collaboration and diplomacy during the conference and how you will then take what you have learned back into your community, as we look together to transform our world.

Sincerely,

Ardis K. Smith

Karen J. Vogel Faculty Seminar: Transforming Multilateral Diplomacy

Join Pamela Chasek for this discussion of her book Transforming Multilateral Diplomacy. It provides an insider's perspective of the negotiations that produced the UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Not only did this process mark a sea change in how the UN conducts multilateral diplomacy, it changed the way the UN does its business. Told from the unique point of view of Ambassador Macharia Kamau - and other key participants from governments, the UN Secretariat, and civil society - this book tells the story of the people, issues, negotiations, and paradigm shifts that unfolded through the Open Working Group (OWG) on SDGs and the subsequent negotiations on the 2030 Sustainable Development Agenda. The historic nature of the SDGs and their negotiation make this story a must-read for anyone interested in multilateral negotiations, sustainable development, and the UN. This book provides insights and a view behind the scenes to faculty and students alike about how UN negotiations actually work, negotiating strategies and tactics, and the art of achieving consensus.

Media: A Key International Stakeholder or Opposition Party?

The press is under attack around the world. Are Fox News, CBS, NBC, BBC, CNN and Al Jazeera reporting about the same world? Attend this panel if you're interested in the role media actually plays in today's international affairs. Experienced journalists will provide first-hand insights into their daily work at the UN and in the world. Debate the responsibilities and impact of today's newsmakers. Organized by Pamela Falk, CBS News UN Correspondent, and Robert Windrem, NBC News.

Metropolitan West

An Insider's Guide to the UN

Are you interested in better understanding and navigating the complex world of the United Nations? How does the UN work and not work, what are its strengths and weakness, who are the key players and how do things get done? These are the issues that will be discussed at this Panel. Join journalist Linda Fasulo, who represents NPR News at the UN and is author of "An Insider's Guide to the UN," along with UN officials and experts including UN Secretary-General's Spokesperson Stéphane Dujarric, Farhan Haq, Gillian Sorensen, and Stephen Schlesinger in a candid discussion of these topics.

Addressing the Global Refugee Crisis in an Uncertain World: A Roadmap for Action

Imagine your home is no longer a place of refuge. You are in fear of your own and your family's livelihood. You want to find safe refuge but borders and passports, defining elements of the modern nation-state, will not allow it. While human migration is anything but a new phenomenon, the images of the past few years have shocked the world's conscience. Tens of thousands of people are on the move, fleeing conflict, poverty, violence, and persecution. At the same time, new walls and restrictions are put in place at borders where people previously crossed freely. Those who still make it frequently face suspicion, hostility, and intolerance in their new homes. How is the world dealing with the global refugee crisis? What can we do to guarantee the universal human right to seek asylum and find safe refuge? Join our experts to discuss what's ahead.

Empire West

Climate Change, the United Nations, and the Path Forward

While the Kyoto Protocol took 9 years to come into force, the Paris Climate Change Agreement only took 11 months. Despite a sense of urgency, the momentum to protect the shared future of the planet is being challenged at every turn by a growing movement that questions and discredits beliefs that are widely held. With science being increasingly met with skepticism, it is time to rethink how citizens can engage and promote reasonable climate policies to protect the planet. Please join our experts to discuss the current state of climate policies and science and what can be done for the sake of our future generations.

NMUN Partners

The extraordinary support and commitment of these groups help us to enhance the quality of our programs and expand our reach.

New York, USA 2018

UN Department of Public Information

Xi'an, China 2018

Erfurt, Germany 2019

Here we recognize those institutions for which participation is a school tradition. The long-term support of these schools reflects the hard work and dedication of faculty advisors, students, and administrators. It shows commitment to experiential learning opportunities like NMUN as well as the ideals embodied by the United Nations. We are greatly indebted to them for their leadership in continuing to enhance the conference. We look forward to welcoming more schools to this list in the future as new institutions start an NMUN tradition and returning schools continue to build a legacy. Data is self-reported on conference applications. Schools without () are located in the United States.

Expectations of Conduct

Our intention is to create an environment at National Model United Nations (NMUN) that supports our educational mission. Professionalism in speech, actions, and appearance by all participants (Delegates, Head Delegates, Faculty, Team Leaders, Guests, Secretariat, Staff, and Board Members) is a requirement of all NMUN conferences. These guidelines are provided to help establish clear expectations.

Concerns about individual behavior in committee should first be addressed to the volunteer staff in committee. Staff may refer larger concerns, such as sexual harassment or discrimination issues, to conference organizers. Organizers may also be contacted directly through conference services staff.

NMUN reserves the right to bar violators from further participation and/or restrict future registration for any participant or school unable to uphold their responsibility to the conference's expectations.

Everyone

- Treat everyone, including non-NMUN hotel guests, with the highest level of courtesy and respect at all times, including on social media and in electronic communications.
- Enjoy the variety of activities available at our conference venues. Please bear in mind, however, that the purpose of being here is participation in NMUN.
- Disruption of committee sessions or causing problems in the hotel or other facilities will not be tolerated.
- Respect academic integrity; plagiarism will not be tolerated.
- Alcohol is not allowed in any of our committee sessions. If you are going to drink, please drink responsibly. Excessive alcohol consumption should be avoided. The U.S. legal drinking age is 21.
- Possession or use of illicit drugs is prohibited at all times. Any issues related to illicit drugs may be directed to the attention of local authorities.
- Follow the Dress Code while attending conference events.
- Respect the property of the United Nations, our host hotels, and any other facilities used. Keep in mind that our facility partners have separate policies that include the potential for removal from their properties.

Delegates

- Remain in character by consistently advocating the interests and representing the policies of the country assigned. To act in character also entails displaying respect for the opinions and ideas of fellow delegates, even if these opinions and ideas conflict with a given delegate's own country's priorities.
- Collaborate with fellow delegates whenever possible.

Head Delegates

- If assigned to a committee, follow the delegates expectations. If serving solely in an advisory role, follow the faculty expectations.
- Attend and participate in head delegates meetings.

Faculty Advisors

- Make efforts to ensure that students maintain a positive and professional approach to the conference and help them understand the skills of diplomacy as practiced at NMUN.
- Serve as information resources when appropriate, but do not participate in the actual writing of resolutions or caucusing activities; participation in the committee process must be left to the student delegates and the conference volunteer staff.
- Quietly observe your students from the back of committee rooms.
- Refrain from using academic credit and grading policies that force participation beyond a country's normal position in the UN; awards should not be a delegation's main emphasis.
- Attend and participate in any faculty advisors meetings.

Guests

- Guests are required to adhere to the same expectations as all other conference attendees.
- Guests serve as observers.
- Guests may not be enrolled university students or faculty advisors and do not provide any support to a delegation. A guest is typically a school official, spouse/partner of a faculty advisor, or a funder who is interested in learning about NMUN.

Dress Code

All clothing must adhere to guidelines that portray professionalism and modesty. If your attire is deemed inappropriate by NMUN staff, you will be asked to leave the session and return with appropriate attire.

- Standard attire for the conference is business jacket, slacks/skirt, dress shirt (with tie for men), and dress shoes.
- Dress sweaters, shorts, ball caps, jeans, sneakers, and sunglasses are considered too casual. Clothes that expose excessive bare skin, reveal undergarments, or are otherwise revealing are inappropriate.
- It is not appropriate to display any national symbols such as flags, pins, crests, etc. on your person during sessions. UN symbols are acceptable.
- Western business dress is preferred. Traditional dress is permitted only for international delegations in whose native countries professional business dress includes traditional cultural dress. NMUN will not tolerate any attempt to portray a character using traditional cultural attire as a costume.

Faculty advisors, team leaders, guests, and volunteer staff serve as role models for delegates. Thus they are required to dress in western business attire while participating in scheduled conference sessions.

Sexual Harassment & Discrimination

NMUN will not tolerate any instances of sexual harassment or discrimination based on race, gender, sexual orientation, national origin, religion, age, or disability. Anyone who believes they have encountered sexual harassment or discrimination that results in a hostile working environment or disparate treatment may bring it to NMUN's attention. We will investigate the merits of the allegations and respond appropriately. Outcomes may include taking no action, issuing a verbal reprimand, separating individuals from the conference, or any other action deemed appropriate.

Safety & Security

Your safety and security are your personal responsibility. Take full advantage of this unique opportunity in a responsible manner. Please do not leave your computer or other personal electronic devices unattended. Remove conference badges when leaving the hotel. Refrain from any sort of substance abuse. Use common sense.

In the event of an emergency in the hotel or UN, follow their guidelines. Emergency preparedness experts recommend having a designated meeting spot outside the hotel and sharing cell phone numbers amongst members of your delegation.

Awards Criteria

National Model United Nations has established criteria for evaluating delegate performance. Each element is equally important to the overall awards determination process. All committees are weighted equally, and delegations are rated using a mathematical formula that accounts for the total number of committees in which each Member State is represented.

Areas of evaluation are:

- Remaining in character – defined as advocating your assigned country's position in a manner consistent with economic, social, and geopolitical constraints.
- Participating in committee – evaluated during both formal sessions and caucusing.
- Proper use of the rules of procedure – NMUN uses the rules of procedure to facilitate effective workings of committee and debate.

For more details, see Awards Criteria: nmun.org/awards-criteria.html.

About Us

NMUN traces its beginnings to a 1927 Model League of Nations. The simulation transitioned to a simulation first of the General Assembly and then expanded to include other organs. After rotating among mid-Atlantic colleges, it has been held annually in New York City since 1964. Throughout its history, the conference has offered an experience-based educational program that furthers the understanding of contemporary international problems.

For more about our history, visit nmun.org/about-nmun/mission-and-history.html.

Today, NMUN•NY is the world's largest intercollegiate Model UN simulation. The 2018 New York conference will bring together more than 5,000 delegates from six continents. This conference includes 22 committees as well as an additional Security Council. NMUN offers a unique opportunity for students to better understand the inner workings of the United Nations while building skills in diplomacy and compromise. College and university students from all over the world work feverishly to propose resolutions addressing regional conflicts, peacekeeping, human rights, women and children, economic and social development, and the environment.

NMUN conferences are one of the most effective tools for teaching students the dynamics of multilateral diplomacy and international relations. They provide a diverse group of informed participants a forum in which to discuss global concerns in a context that closely parallels the real world.

NMUN will hold upcoming conferences in New York City; Washington, DC; Xi'an, China; and Erfurt, Germany. Since 2008, international simulations have been held in China, Ecuador, the Czech Republic, France, the Republic of Korea, Italy, Japan, and Canada. Thank you to our partner organizations for their vision and support of our mission. We look forward to future conference partnerships and welcome your inquiry into potential opportunities.

NMUN is a U.S. 501(c)(3) nonprofit, educational organization. We are also a Non-Governmental Organization associated with the United Nations Department of Public Information and a United Nations Academic Impact Member.

I work as part of a team that helps coordinate and support U.S. government activities with members of select foreign governments, international organizations, and staff at U.S. missions overseas to enhance the ability of partner countries to prevent, detect, seize, and respond to nuclear and other radioactive materials smuggling. My empirical and international relations coursework at the Pepperdine School of Public Policy prepared me well for this fast-paced and challenging career.
