NATIONAL MODEL UNITED NATIONS

nmun.org

Conference A: 24 - 28 March
Conference B: 14 - 18 April

NMUN advances understanding of the UN and contemporary global issues through quality educational programs that emphasize collaboration and cooperative conflict resolution and prepares participants for active global citizenship.

NMUN programs require college and university students to apply their academic knowledge actively while simulating the work of diplomats in experiential learning programs that demand their collaboration with their peers from various nations to craft negotiated solutions to current global problems. Students must research, craft, and then advocate positions with which they may or may not agree. Participants strengthen through practice the skills of listening, persuasion, and negotiating, while developing a deeper capacity for empathy and creative problem solving.

In Memoriam

The NMUN family was saddened to hear of the death of former UN Secretary-General Kofi Annan on August 18, 2018. He and his wife Nane were great supporters of NMUN. She would drop by unannounced and visit students in committee, removing her shoes to sit with a caucus group and discuss global issues, in particular empowering women and girls. He spoke at our conference in 1999 and called participation in NMUN an “inspiring display of commitment and global citizenship.” Kofi Annan and his optimism exemplified how one person can make a difference in the world.

"As we face the headwinds of our troubled and turbulent times, let us always be inspired by the legacy of Kofi Annan."

– H.E. António Guterres, UN Secretary-General

THE PRESIDENT
OF THE
GENERAL ASSEMBLY

LETTER TO THE NATIONAL MODEL UNITED NATIONS (NMUN)

Dear Friends,

Allow me to begin by thanking you for your involvement in the National Model United Nations. It is always encouraging to see young people – the next generation of leaders, influencers and policymakers – engaging in these forums in support of the UN's mission.

As President of the General Assembly for the 73rd Session, I have strived to work under the banner of 'Making the UN Relevant for All', and to bring the UN closer to the people. Because, the truth is that we may have taken for granted the place the UN holds on the global stage; international norms, procedures and institutions that have carried us through the past seven decades are facing headwinds, and it is now, more than ever, that we must make the UN a daily reality in the lives of all people in order to build the groundswell of support in each country for the policies we need to respond to the critical global challenges we face, such as climate change.

Nowhere is this more evident than in the 17 Sustainable Development Goals. Representing the input of over a million people, these Goals have the capacity to change our world, touching on everything from forests and energy, to health and education, to jobs and sustainable cities.

If one of our objectives is to build people's understanding that the UN exists to work on their behalf, then you stand as proof of this success. At the same time, your knowledge of the UN and your engagement in the National Model UN, allows you to serve as ambassadors yourselves, spreading this message even further.

I would like to express my sincere gratitude for your perseverance, your commitment and your ideas. As the next generation of leaders, you stand to benefit from the work of the UN as well as inherit its legacy. I hope that you remember this as you go forward, and that you continue to push as hard and as passionately as you have until now.

Thank you again.

María Fernanda Espinosa Garcés

THE SECRETARY-GENERAL*MESSAGE TO THE NATIONAL MODEL UNITED NATIONS • NEW YORK
(NMUN•NY) CONFERENCE
New, York, 24-28 March 2019
New, York, 14-18 April 2019

Thank you for taking part in the Model United Nations and for getting involved in some of the biggest issues of our time: peace, climate action, sustainable development and human rights.

Our world has achieved remarkable progress in recent years, from increasing life expectancy to reducing child mortality. In the span of just one generation, the number of people living in extreme poverty has been reduced by more than a billion.

But these gains face big risks. Climate change is an existential threat and the defining challenge of our time. You are the first generation to grow up in the shadow of climate change and the last who can prevent its worst consequences. The world needs your strong engagement to increase ambition, to cut emissions and to hold leaders to account.

The United Nations is the platform for action on climate change, on growing inequality, on harnessing new technologies for the good of all, and on all global issues that cannot be addressed by any one country alone. Our blueprint is the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development – the globally-agreed plan for dignity, peace and prosperity on a healthy planet.

To achieve the 17 Sustainable Development Goals, we need a great global mobilization that goes beyond governments, bringing people together from all walks of life and showing that international cooperation can deliver for everyone. The voices of women and girls, and of young people, are essential.

That is why the Model United Nations is so important. Thank you for getting involved, and for standing up for the shared values of all humanity.

I hope you will take what you learn here into your lives, to your family and friends and to the wider world. The United Nations counts on you to be agents of change as we strive to build a better future for all.

A special thanks to the United Nations Department of Global Communications for their decades of assistance to NMUN.

Dear Delegates, Faculty Advisors, Guests, and Friends,

We are honored to welcome you to the 2019 National Model United Nations New York (NMUN•NY) Conference! In total, over 5,000 delegates will come together from around the world to participate in this conference, engaging in debates and discussions about some of the most pressing issues in the world today. Thank you for your commitment to finding diplomatic solutions to these problems and working together with your peers from more than 130 countries. We are inspired by the months you have spent preparing, researching, and writing leading up to this conference, and hope that these preparations result in informed, respectful, and passionate discussions. Over the course of the week, we encourage you to approach these debates in the collaborative spirit of the United Nations (UN), contribute your new ideas, and cherish the learning experience this conference offers.

The theme for this year's conference is "Building a Climate for Peace." In reflecting on this theme, we empower delegates to think about how to both create and enhance an environment that fosters sustainable peace. On the most basic level, this theme acknowledges the destruction that climate change is causing to our world and the necessity of sustainable development to ensure peace. Beyond the physical demands of our planet, we also challenge you to think about what a climate for peace entails from your perspective. For us, this means an environment that embraces diversity and promotes cross-cultural understanding, while also ensuring that human rights are respected and justice prevails. We believe a climate for peace must also be free of discrimination based on race, religious beliefs, gender identity, sexual orientation, heritage, ethnicity, or any other factor.

In his opening speech of the most recent General Assembly session, UN Secretary-General António Guterres stated: "At a time of fragmentation and polarization, the world needs this Assembly to show the value of international cooperation." In this same spirit, we are convinced that NMUN provides a similar opportunity to bring together a new generation of leaders to show the world what we are capable of when we work together. While simulating various committees and entities of the UN, you have the unique opportunity to be part of the solution to the problems you're discussing and serve as an inspiration for our global leaders.

Sincerely,

Felipe Ante

NMUN is a nongovernmental organization formally associated with the UN Department of Global Communications, a UN Academic Impact Member, and a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization of the United States.

Join our volunteer staff - committed to the ideals of the United Nations!

We seek enthusiastic NMUN alumni from around the globe who are willing to help organize the world's largest university-level simulation of the United Nations. Many of our volunteer staff members are current undergraduate or graduate students.

Volunteers with expertise in research, committee management, and conference organization are needed.

Build skills in facilitation of debate, conflict resolution, and customer service. Learn, alongside delegates, about current global issues. Form lifelong friendships with other volunteers.

We offer in-depth training, provide hotel accommodations, and help pay for most travel expenses.

Join Prof. Margaret P. Karns for a discussion of The United Nations in the 21st Century, the popular text of which she is coauthor, which explores the evolution of the UN and its efforts to address peace and security challenges, promote economic development, human rights, and environmental sustainability over close to 75 years. The fifth edition (2017) focuses on major trends, including changing international power dynamics, new threats to peace and security, including both state and human security, and the growing challenges of climate change and sustainability. It examines the UN's proliferating public-private partnerships and the debates over reforming the Security Council and the Secretary-General selection process. Dr. Karns is Professor Emerita of Political Science at the University of Dayton and currently a Visiting Professor in the new PhD program on Global Governance and Human Security at the University of Massachusetts Boston. She is a former vice president of the International Studies Association and also former board member of the Academic Council on the United Nations System. In the late 1970s and early 1980s, she was actively involved with NMUN, including as a board member of its then parent organization, the National Collegiate Conference Association (NCCA). This marks her first return to NMUN in more than 30 years!

Media: A Key International Stakeholder or Opposition Party?

The press is under attack around the world. Are Fox News, CBS, NBC, BBC, CNN, and Al Jazeera reporting about the same world? Attend this panel if you're interested in the role media actually plays in today's international affairs. Experienced journalists will provide first-hand insights into their daily work at the UN and in the world. Join the debate related to the responsibilities and impact of today's newsmakers. Organized by Robert Windrem, NBC News.

Metropolitan West
An Insider's Guide to the UN

Are you interested in better understanding and navigating the complex world of the United Nations? How does the UN work and not work, what are its strengths and weakness, who are the key players and how do things get done? These are the issues that will be discussed at this panel. Join journalist Linda Fasulo, who represents NPR News at the UN and is author of "An Insider's Guide to the UN," along with UN officials and experts in a candid discussion of these topics.

Empire East

Integrating International Peace and Security and Human Rights

For decades, the core objectives underlying Peace & Security and Human Rights were often discussed in silos, with actions oriented toward securing one often leaving out discussion of the other. However, the international community has started to acknowledge the inherent interconnectedness of these two core pillars of the UN. Indeed, the OHCHR has often briefed and called upon the Security Council to address security issues as a means of protecting against human rights violations. In this panel, delegates will have the opportunity to hear from international experts whose work has focused on the intersection of Peace & Security and Human Rights and learn first-hand the efforts being undertaken to address issues arising under each subject through a united front.

Empire West

Social Entrepreneurship and the 2030 Agenda

True innovation will be required to achieve the 2030 Agenda and ensure sustainable development for all. Social Entrepreneurship is often overlooked as an avenue for such innovation, both broadly and as a field in which delegates can apply their skills acquired at Model UN. Delegates interested in forming their own social enterprises and those interested in achieving the 2030 Agenda alike will find value in participating in this panel, where they will hear from experts in the field. Panelists will not only discuss their experiences in launching and working with social enterprises and answer delegates' questions relating to how they may start their own business with the skills they have gained at NMUN, but also explaining the link and role of social enterprises in the road towards the 2030 Agenda.

Hai Japan!

22 - 29 November 2020

nmun.org/conferences/japan.html

Here we recognize those institutions for which participation is a school tradition. The long-term support of these schools reflects the hard work and dedication of faculty advisors, students, and administrators. It shows commitment to experiential learning opportunities like NMUN as well as the ideals embodied by the United Nations. We are greatly indebted to them for their leadership in continuing to enhance the conference. We look forward to welcoming more schools to this list in the future as new institutions start an NMUN tradition and returning schools continue to build a legacy. Data is self-reported on conference applications.

Expectations of Conduct

Our intention is to create an environment at National Model United Nations (NMUN) that supports our educational mission. Professionalism in speech, actions, and appearance by all participants (delegates, head delegates, faculty, delegation leaders, guests, secretariat, staff, and board members) is a requirement of all NMUN conferences. These guidelines are provided to help establish clear expectations.

Concerns about individual behavior in committee should first be addressed to the volunteer staff in committee. Larger concerns, such as violence, sexual harassment, or discrimination issues, may be referred to conference organizers. Organizers may also be contacted directly through conference services volunteer staff.

NMUN reserves the right to bar violators from further participation and/or restrict future registration for any participant or school unable to uphold their responsibility to the conference's expectations.

Everyone

- Treat everyone, including non-NMUN hotel guests, with the highest level of courtesy and respect at all times, including on social media and in electronic communications.
- Enjoy the variety of activities available at our conference venues. Please bear in mind, however, that the purpose of being here is participation in NMUN.
- Disruption of committee sessions or causing problems in the hotel or other facilities will not be tolerated.
- Respect academic integrity; plagiarism will not be tolerated.
- Alcohol is not allowed in any of our committee sessions. If you are going to drink, please drink responsibly. Excessive alcohol consumption should be avoided. The U.S. legal drinking age is 21.
- Possession or use of illicit drugs is prohibited at all times. Any issues related to illicit drugs may be directed to the attention of local authorities.
- Follow the Dress Code while attending conference events.
- Respect the property of the United Nations, our host hotels, and any other facilities used. Keep in mind that our facility partners have separate policies that include the potential for removal from their properties.

Delegates

- Remain in character by consistently advocating the interests and representing the policies of the country assigned. To act in character also entails displaying respect for the opinions and ideas of fellow delegates, even if these opinions and ideas conflict with a given delegate's own country's priorities.
- Collaborate with fellow delegates whenever possible.

Head Delegates

- If assigned to a committee, follow the delegates expectations. If serving solely in an advisory role, follow the faculty expectations.
- Attend and participate in head delegates meetings.

Faculty Advisors

- Make efforts to ensure that students maintain a positive and professional approach to the conference and help them understand the skills of diplomacy as practiced at NMUN.
- Serve as information resources when appropriate, but do not participate in the actual writing of resolutions or caucusing activities; participation in the committee process must be left to the student delegates and the conference volunteer staff.
- Quietly observe your students from the back of committee rooms.
- Refrain from using academic credit and grading policies that force participation beyond a country's normal position in the UN; awards should not be a delegation's main emphasis.
- Attend and participate in any faculty advisors meetings.

Guests

- Guests are required to adhere to the same expectations as all other conference attendees.
- Guests serve as observers.
- Guests may not be enrolled university students or faculty advisors and do not provide any support to a delegation. A guest is typically a school official, spouse/partner of a faculty advisor, or a funder who is interested in learning about NMUN.

Dress Code

All clothing must portray professionalism. If your attire is deemed inappropriate by NMUN staff, you will be asked to leave the session and return with appropriate attire.

- Standard attire for the conference is business jacket, slacks/skirt, dress shirt (with tie for men), and dress shoes.
- Dress sweaters, shorts, ball caps, jeans, sneakers, and sunglasses are considered too casual. Clothes that expose excessive bare skin, reveal undergarments, or are otherwise revealing are inappropriate.
- It is not appropriate to display any national symbols such as flags, pins, crests, etc. on your person during sessions. UN symbols are acceptable.
- Western business dress is preferred. Traditional dress is permitted only for international delegations in whose native countries professional business dress includes traditional cultural dress. NMUN will not tolerate any attempt to portray a character using traditional cultural attire as a costume.

Faculty advisors, delegation leaders, guests, and volunteer staff serve as role models for delegates. Thus they are required to dress in western business attire while participating in scheduled conference sessions.

Sexual Harassment & Discrimination

Sexual harassment or discrimination based on race, gender, sexual orientation, national origin, religion, age, or disability is not acceptable. Such acts are incompatible with NMUN's educational mission and are a violation of our Conduct Expectations. Violators may be expelled from the conference without compensation. General descriptions of behavior that may be considered sexual harassment can be found at: <https://sapac.umich.edu/article/63>.

Anyone who believes they have seen or encountered sexual harassment or discrimination should bring it to NMUN's attention. We will investigate the merits of the allegations and respond appropriately. Outcomes may include taking no action, issuing a verbal reprimand, separating individuals from the conference, or any other action deemed appropriate.

Safety & Security

Your safety and security are your personal responsibility. Take full advantage of this unique opportunity in a responsible manner. Please do not leave your computer or other personal electronic devices unattended. Remove conference badges when leaving the hotel. Refrain from any sort of substance abuse. Use common sense. In the event of an emergency in the hotel or UN, follow their guidelines. Emergency preparedness experts recommend having a designated meeting spot outside the hotel and sharing cell phone numbers amongst members of your delegation.

Awards Criteria

National Model United Nations (NMUN) has established criteria to evaluate delegate performance. Each element is equally important to the overall awards determination process. All committees are weighted equally, and delegations are rated on a mathematical formula in relation to the total number of committees represented by the individual member state. Areas of evaluation are:

- Remaining in character - advocate for your assigned country's position in a manner consistent with its economic, social, and geopolitical constraints.
- Participating in committee - during both formal sessions and informal caucuses.
- Proper use of the rules of procedure - facilitate effective workings of the committee and debate, don't impede it.

More details at: nmun.org/awards-criteria.html.

About Us

NMUN traces its beginnings to a 1927 Model League of Nations. Our UN simulation started with the General Assembly and then expanded and transitioned to include other organs. After rotating among mid-Atlantic colleges, it has been held annually in New York City since 1964. Throughout its history, the conference has offered an experience-based educational program that furthers the understanding of contemporary international problems. For more about our history, visit nmun.org/about-nmun/mission-and-history.html.

Today, NMUN•NY is the world's largest intercollegiate Model UN simulation. The 2019 New York conference will bring together more than 5,000 delegates from six continents. This conference includes 22 committees as well as an additional Security Council. NMUN offers a unique opportunity for students to better understand the inner workings of the United Nations while building skills in diplomacy and compromise. College and university students from all over the world work feverishly to propose resolutions addressing regional conflicts, peacekeeping, human rights, women and children, economic and social development, and the environment.

NMUN conferences are one of the most effective tools for teaching students the dynamics of multilateral diplomacy and international relations. They provide a diverse group of informed participants a forum in which to discuss global concerns in a context that closely parallels the real world.

NMUN will hold upcoming conferences in New York City; Washington, DC; Erfurt, Germany; and Kobe, Japan. Since 2008, international simulations have been held in China, Ecuador, the Czech Republic, France, the Republic of Korea, Italy, Japan, and Canada. Thank you to our partner organizations for their vision and support of our mission. We look forward to future conference partnerships and welcome your inquiry into potential opportunities.

NMUN is a U.S. 501(c)(3) nonprofit, educational organization; a nongovernmental organization formally associated with the United Nations Department of Global Communications, and a United Nations Academic Impact Member.

WHAT IT TAKES

Shifting dynamics between global powers, the rise of new and dangerous political ideologies, and the evolution of technology into a threat against our everyday lives, are all contributing to governments, countries, and society at large undergoing dramatic and far-reaching transformations. While each issue that arises poses its own dilemma, they are all undeniably intertwined. It is the global professional with the insight and understanding of the complex factors at play, who will be of greatest value.

Whether you are currently working or seek to pursue a career in government, the private sector or an NGO, the NYU School of Professional Studies Center for Global Affairs offers degree programs that prepare you for the pressing issues we face. Our interdisciplinary approach uniquely positions you to problem-solve in innovative ways.

Study with leading international experts in the heart of NYC, while benefiting from Global Field Intensives, guest lecturers, and the deep experience of faculty members who have made these issues their life's work. Gain the NYU education that sets you apart and gives you what it takes to succeed now and in the years to come.
