NATIONAL MODEL UNITED NATIONS

nmun.org

Conference A: 28-31 March
Conference B: 5-8 April

NMUN advances understanding of the UN and contemporary global issues through quality educational programs that emphasize collaboration and cooperative conflict resolution and prepares participants for active global citizenship.

NMUN programs require college and university students to apply their academic knowledge actively while simulating the work of diplomats in experiential learning programs that demand their collaboration with their peers from various nations to craft negotiated solutions to current global problems. Students must research, craft, and then advocate positions with which they may or may not agree. Participants strengthen through practice the skills of listening, persuasion, and negotiating, while developing a deeper capacity for empathy and creative problem solving.

UNITED NATIONS

NATIONS UNIES

THE SECRETARY-GENERAL

MESSAGE TO NATIONAL MODEL UNITED NATIONS • NEW YORK
(NMUN•NY) CONFERENCE
28-31 March and 5-8 April 2021

Our world faces an unprecedented crisis that is causing widespread human suffering, upending lives, devastating the global economy and risking reversals of hard-won progress towards the Sustainable Development Goals.

In these trying times, I welcome the holding of your Model United Nations activity. Your unwavering commitment to international cooperation is essential for tackling the COVID-19 pandemic -- the biggest test our world has faced since the Second World War.

We can only defeat the coronavirus if we do so globally. We must recognize that the poorest countries and most vulnerable will be the hardest hit, and that decades of development gains could be reversed. Countries already suffering armed conflict now face further upheaval. And the pandemic is having a disproportionate impact on the world's women.

The United Nations is undertaking a wide-ranging response – calling for a global ceasefire and working to control the pandemic, save lives, mitigate the socio-economic impacts, fight stigma and recover better.

We are strongly committed to providing full support to all, guided by our shared values. The world needs your energy, and I draw great hope from seeing your generation mobilize to address the challenges of our time and to build a healthier, more equitable and sustainable future for all.

In that spirit of common cause, I wish you a successful Model United Nations conference.

Judy K. Eaton passed away on 2 December 2020. She was our longest-serving volunteer at the NMUN•NY conference. We all mourn the passing of a dear friend, diligent worker, and all-around good person.

Her introduction to NMUN was through her son Michael (Secretary-General 1997 & 1998) and daughter Michelle (Chief of Staff 2004). As Michael was transitioning into the Executive Director role, he realized that NMUN needed someone meticulous to help with conference registration packets and counting the money raised from t-shirts and photocopies of draft working papers (in the days before shared documents). He knew Judy would be a perfect fit so he asked for her help. She agreed to assist without any hesitation.

The annual conference was something she cherished and looked forward to as it enabled her to see returning faculty and staff, attend seminars, check in on the conference Secretariat, and enjoy the energy of the delegates as she made her rounds. Our security team referred to her as Ambassador Mom. Her face would beam whenever they escorted her down to the night club to pay the disc jockey for the delegate dance or to trade out the cash boxes in Conference Services. Those who witnessed her dedication and service to NMUN saw numerous examples of competence, humility, and kindness.

In 2019 to recognize her 20 years of volunteer service, the NMUN Board of Directors presented her with an award in the UN General Assembly Hall. She took great pride in her volunteer work and was deeply touched by the public acknowledgement of her behind the scenes work. In presenting her award, NMUN President Emeritus Richard Reitano noted she always personified what Robert Kennedy used to say, "Everyone can make a difference, and everyone should try." Judy made a difference.

In her honor, the NMUN Board of Directors has created the Judy K. Eaton Service Award. It will be used to recognize future long-term volunteers that share her commitment to the mission of National Model United Nations. She was an exemplary role model for those who will follow; she will be missed. Rest in Peace.

Dear Delegates, Faculty Advisors, Guests, and Friends,

We are honored to welcome you to the 2021 National Model United Nations New York (NMUN•NY) Conference. Over the next few weeks, thousands of delegates from all over the world will gather together virtually to participate in our conference to discuss the most pressing issues the world faces today. They will debate, cooperate, draft and revise resolutions, and most importantly of all, learn to embody the spirit of diplomacy that, within the United Nations system, remains our best hope of solving humanity's most intractable problems.

The last twelve months have been incredibly difficult for everyone around the world. The pandemic has presented unprecedented challenges for us at NMUN. In 2020, NMUN•NY was cancelled for the first time since 1945. Our theme for this year's virtual conference is "Together Towards Tomorrow." This theme reflects our shared desire for global and institutional renewal; we believe that by cooperating to find forward-thinking, inclusive answers to the questions we face, we can be ready for the challenges of the future.

Think about this theme as you approach the conference. What does coming together mean in a year when we cannot physically come together? What opportunities does it offer for those who may not have been able to travel to New York? How do we move towards and shape our future? In what ways must we cooperate to achieve the change we want to see?

Your research and writing in preparation for this conference has been exemplary. We encourage you to come together now and carry this focused mindset into the next weeks. From wherever you are joining us, let's come together for an inspiring and educational experience.

The UN itself is also looking to the future while tackling the crises of the present. General Assembly President Volkan Bozkir remarked that "In 2021, there is only one New Year's resolution that has the power to change the course of history, and that is: to work together to create a better world for all." Though we will not be together in New York this year, we are confident that the hard work and sacrifices made today will ensure we can gather together next year.

UN Secretary General Antonio Guterres said in January that: "Together, let us seize the opportunity to build a safer, fairer and more sustainable world." We look forward to everyone at NMUN carrying this spirit into our conference. Everyone participating has a part to play in that. Good luck as we travel Together Towards Tomorrow.

Sincerely,

Alfie Jones

Here we recognize those institutions attending this year for which participation is a school tradition. The long-term support of these schools reflects the hard work and dedication of faculty advisors, students, and administrators. It shows commitment to experiential learning opportunities like NMUN as well as the ideals embodied by the United Nations. We are greatly indebted to them for their leadership in continuing to enhance the conference. We look forward to welcoming more schools to this list in the future as new institutions start an NMUN tradition and returning schools continue to build a legacy. Data are taken from registration records, programs, and self-reported on conference applications. Schools without () are located in the United States.

Expectations of Conduct

Our intention is to create an environment at National Model United Nations (NMUN) that supports our educational mission. Professionalism in speech, actions, and appearance by all participants (delegates, head delegates, faculty, delegation leaders, guests, secretariat, staff, and board members) is a requirement of all NMUN conferences. These guidelines are provided to help establish clear expectations.

Concerns about individual behavior in committee should first be addressed to the volunteer staff in committee. Larger concerns, such as violence, sexual harassment, or discrimination issues, may be referred to conference organizers. Organizers may also be contacted directly through information services volunteer staff.

NMUN reserves the right to bar violators from further participation and/or restrict future registration for any participant or school unable to uphold their responsibility to the conference's expectations.

Everyone

- Treat everyone, including non-NMUN hotel guests, with the highest level of courtesy and respect at all times, including on social media and in electronic communications.
- Enjoy the variety of activities available at our conference venues. Please bear in mind, however, that the purpose of being here is participation in NMUN.
- Disruption of committee sessions or causing problems in the hotel or other facilities will not be tolerated.
- Respect academic integrity; plagiarism will not be tolerated.
- Alcohol is not allowed in any of our committee sessions. If you are going to drink, please drink responsibly. Excessive alcohol consumption should be avoided. The U.S. legal drinking age is 21.
- Possession or use of illicit drugs is prohibited at all times. Any issues related to illicit drugs may be directed to the attention of local authorities.
- Follow the Dress Code while attending conference events.
- Respect the property of the United Nations, our host hotels, and any other facilities used. Keep in mind that our facility partners have separate policies that include the potential for removal from their properties.

Delegates

- Remain in character by consistently advocating the interests and representing the policies of the country assigned. To act in character also entails displaying respect for the opinions and ideas of fellow delegates, even if these opinions and ideas conflict with a given delegate's own country's priorities.
- Collaborate with fellow delegates whenever possible.

Head Delegates

- If assigned to a committee, follow the delegates expectations. If serving solely in an advisory role, follow the faculty expectations.
- Attend and participate in head delegates meetings.

Faculty Advisors

- Make efforts to ensure that students maintain a positive and professional approach to the conference and help them understand the skills of diplomacy as practiced at NMUN.
- Serve as information resources when appropriate, but do not participate in the actual writing of resolutions or caucusing activities; participation in the committee process must be left to the student delegates and the conference volunteer staff.
- Quietly observe your students from the back of committee rooms.
- Refrain from using academic credit and grading policies that force participation beyond a country's normal position in the UN; awards should not be a delegation's main emphasis.
- Attend and participate in any faculty advisors meetings.

Guests

- Guests are required to adhere to the same expectations as all other conference attendees.
- Guests serve as observers.
- Guests may not be enrolled university students or faculty advisors and do not provide any support to a delegation. A guest is typically a school official, spouse/partner of a faculty advisor, or a funder who is interested in learning about NMUN

Dress Code

All clothing must portray professionalism as expected in diplomatic settings. If attire is deemed inappropriate by NMUN staff, individuals may be asked to leave the session and return with appropriate attire.

- Professional business attire is a business jacket, dress shirt, tie, slacks/skirt/dress, and dress shoes. Professional dress expectations require that dresses and skirts be knee length. Delegates should be dressed in professional business attire that reflects their self-identified gender.
- Clothing considered too casual includes sweaters, novelty jackets, shorts, sundresses/other casual dresses, ball caps, jeans, sneakers, athletic wear, and sunglasses. Clothing that exposes excessive bare skin, shows undergarments, or is otherwise revealing is inappropriate.
- It is not appropriate to display any national symbols such as flags, pins, crests, etc. on your person during sessions. All UN symbols are acceptable. If attending virtually, please ensure that your background is conducive to the spirit of creating a neutral space for negotiations. School and country flags/symbols should not be visible on your screen/person.
- Traditional dress is permitted only for delegations in whose home countries it is considered professional business dress. NMUN will not tolerate any attempt to portray a character using traditional cultural attire as a costume.

Faculty advisors, delegation leaders, guests, and volunteer staff serve as role models for delegates. They too are required to dress in professional business attire while participating in scheduled conference sessions.

Sexual Harassment & Discrimination

Sexual harassment or discrimination based on race, gender, sexual orientation, national origin, religion, age, or disability is not acceptable. Such acts are incompatible with NMUN's educational mission and are a violation of our Conduct Expectations. Violators may be expelled from the conference without compensation. General descriptions of behavior that may be considered sexual harassment can be found in the UN's Code of Conduct.

Anyone who believes they have seen or encountered sexual harassment or discrimination should bring it to NMUN's attention. We will investigate the merits of the allegations and respond appropriately. Outcomes may include taking no action, issuing a verbal reprimand, separating individuals from the conference, or any other action deemed appropriate.

Safety & Security

Your safety and security are your personal responsibility. Take full advantage of this unique opportunity in a responsible manner. Please do not leave your computer or other personal electronic devices unattended. Remove conference badges when leaving the hotel. Refrain from any sort of substance abuse. Use common sense.

In the event of an emergency in the hotel or UN, follow their guidelines. Emergency preparedness experts recommend having a designated meeting spot outside the hotel and sharing cell phone numbers amongst members of your delegation.

Awards Criteria

National Model United Nations (NMUN) has established criteria to evaluate delegate performance. Each element is equally important to the overall awards determination process. All committees are weighted equally, and delegations are rated on a mathematical formula in relation to the total number of committees represented by the individual member state. Areas of evaluation are:

- Remaining in character - advocate for your assigned country's position in a manner consistent with its economic, social, and geopolitical constraints.
- Participating in committee - during both formal sessions and informal caucuses.
- Using the NMUN Rules of Procedure properly - facilitate effective workings of the committee and debate, don't impede it.

About Us

NMUN traces its beginnings to a 1927 Model League of Nations. Our UN simulation started with the General Assembly and then expanded and transitioned to include other organs. After rotating among mid-Atlantic colleges, it has been held annually in New York City since 1964. Throughout its history, the conference has offered an experience-based educational program that furthers the understanding of contemporary international problems. For more about our history, visit our About Us page.

Today, NMUN•NY is the world's largest intercollegiate Model UN simulation. The 2021 New York conference - for the first time in a virtual format - will bring together thousands of delegates from around the world. This conference includes 21 committees plus an additional Security Council. NMUN offers a unique opportunity for students to better understand the inner workings of the United Nations while building skills in diplomacy and compromise. College and university students from all over the world work feverishly to propose resolutions addressing regional conflicts, peacekeeping, human rights, women and children, economic and social development, and the environment.

NMUN conferences are one of the most effective tools for teaching students the dynamics of multilateral diplomacy and international relations. They provide a diverse group of informed participants a forum in which to discuss global concerns in a context that closely parallels the real world.

NMUN will hold upcoming conferences in New York City; Washington, DC; Olomouc, Czech Republic; and Kobe, Japan. Since 2008, international simulations have been held in China, Ecuador, the Czech Republic, France, Germany, the Republic of Korea, Italy, Japan, and Canada. Thank you to our partner organizations for their vision and support of our mission. We look forward to future conference partnerships and welcome your inquiry into potential opportunities.

NMUN is a U.S. 501(c)(3) nonprofit, educational organization; a nongovernmental organization formally associated with the United Nations Department of Global Communications, and a United Nations Academic Impact Member.

“Maxwell gave me a push”

While based in Maxwell’s Washington, D.C., headquarters, Roza Vasileva took classes in international affairs while also interning at the World Bank. It proved a powerful combination.

She saw how, in developing nations, information and communication technology (ICT) helps promote economic growth, citizen involvement, and government transparency. She helped pilot the Open Data Readiness Assessment — tested in Russia and since applied in dozens of countries. After graduation, she stayed on with the World Bank; her internship turned into a job.
