NATIONS UNIES

THE SECRETARY-GENERAL

MESSAGE TO THE NATIONAL MODEL UNITED NATIONS CONFERENCE (NMUN•DC) Washington, D.C, 3-5 November 2017

It is a pleasure to greet this Model United Nations.

Today, people around the world are interconnected. Conflict, environmental destruction, poverty and injustice affect everyone. We have to work in common cause for our common humanity. All parents want a better life for their children. All religions value peace. All communities thrive when they value diversity.

At Model United Nations, you broaden your horizons. By learning and networking, you can be part of the efforts of the United Nations to establish peace, secure human rights and enable all people to live in dignity.

I have called for a surge in diplomacy for peace – and for a new emphasis on preventing conflicts. We are also working to improve living conditions everywhere through the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development.

In all of these areas, we can benefit from your enthusiasm and your ideas. I hope that you will follow our social media accounts and stay fully engaged in your communities.

The United Nations stands with you as you stand up for our shared values. Together, let us create a more compassionate, inclusive and peaceful world.

António Guterres

Dear Honorable Delegates, Faculty Advisors, Staff, and Friends,

It is my great pleasure to welcome you to the 2017 NMUN•DC Conference. On behalf of the volunteer staff, the National Model United Nations Board, and the Osgood Center for International Studies, I thank you for joining us for the 11th anniversary of this simulation in DC. We sincerely hope that this exciting weekend will be an enriching experience for you and we challenge you to fully embrace the diplomatic debates and solution-oriented negotiations that will occur across delegations and committee rooms throughout the weekend.

The global community has increasingly focused its attention on youth empowerment, which goes hand in hand with the experiences in store for you this weekend. United Nations Secretary-General António Guterres said at his Swearing-in Ceremony in 2016 that, "The United Nations must empower young people, increase their participation in society and their access to education, training and jobs." Currently, youth make up 25% of the total working age population and over 33% of youth ages 15 to 24 face a deficit of employment opportunities. Over 500 million youth aged 15-24 live on $2 per day or less. Even though about half of the world's population is under 30 years old, they are not at the center of political decision making. Around 15 million youth have been forcibly displaced due to disasters and conflict. Globally, pregnancy and childbirth complications are the second leading cause of death for girls aged 15-19.

The United Nations has focused on creating awareness, increasing commitment and investment in youth, mobilizing and engaging youth, building partnerships to empower and increase participation, and in connecting and building bridges cross-culturally. These values are shared within and amongst the NMUN family of conferences. I challenge you to keep these goals in mind as you prepare to speak with your fellow delegates on the topics you've so diligently prepared to address.

You will spend this weekend personifying the political beliefs and actions of your assigned Member States. However, we hope that your participation this weekend will spark your passion to go beyond this conference and that you will continue addressing the most significant issues of our time in your everyday life and beyond. The future is in our hands. As Mahatma Gandhi said, "be the change you wish to see in the world." We hope that you will leave this weekend empowered to have a boldly positive impact in your local and global communities no matter your age or status through influencing policy, contributing to peaceful conflict resolution, promoting sustainability, and through acting with integrity.

Sincerely,

Angela Shively
Secretary-General, NMUN•DC 2017

Expectations of Conduct

Our intention is to create an environment at National Model United Nations (NMUN) that supports our educational mission. Professionalism in speech, actions, and appearance by all participants (Delegates, Head Delegates, Faculty, Team Leaders, Guests, Secretariat, Staff, and Board Members) is a requirement of all NMUN conferences. These guidelines are provided to help establish clear expectations.

Concerns about individual behavior in committee should first be addressed to the volunteer staff in committee. Staff may refer larger concerns, such as sexual harassment or discrimination issues, to conference organizers. Organizers may also be contacted directly through conference services staff.

NMUN reserves the right to bar violators from further participation and/or restrict future registration for any participant or school unable to uphold their responsibility to the conference's expectations.

Everyone

- Treat everyone, including non-NMUN hotel guests, with the highest level of courtesy and respect at all times, including on social media and in electronic communications.
- Enjoy the variety of activities available at our conference venues. Please bear in mind, however, that the purpose of being here is participation in NMUN.
- Disruption of committee sessions or causing problems in the hotel or other facilities will not be tolerated.
- Respect academic integrity; plagiarism will not be tolerated.
- Alcohol is not allowed in any of our committee sessions. If you are going to drink, please drink responsibly. Excessive alcohol consumption should be avoided. The U.S. legal drinking age is 21.
- Possession or use of illicit drugs is prohibited at all times. Any issues related to illicit drugs may be directed to the attention of local authorities.
- Follow the Dress Code while attending conference events.
- Respect the property of the United Nations, our host hotels, and any other facilities used. Keep in mind, our facility partners have separate policies that include the potential for removal from their properties.

Delegates

- Remain in character by consistently advocating the interests and representing the policies of the country assigned. To act in character also entails displaying respect for the opinions and ideas of fellow delegates, even if these opinions and ideas conflict with a given delegate's own country's priorities.
- Collaborate with fellow delegates whenever possible.

Head Delegates

- If assigned to a committee, follow the delegates expectations. If serving solely in an advisory role, follow the faculty expectations.
- Attend and participate in head delegates meetings.

Faculty Advisors

- Make efforts to ensure that students maintain a positive and professional approach to the conference and help them understand the skills of diplomacy as practiced at NMUN.
- Serve as information resources when appropriate, but do not participate in the actual writing of resolutions or caucusing activities; participation in the committee process must be left to the student delegates and the conference volunteer staff.
- Quietly observe your students from the back of committee rooms.
- Refrain from using academic credit and grading policies that force participation beyond a country's normal position in the UN; awards should not be a delegation's main emphasis.
- Attend and participate in any faculty advisors meetings.

Guests

- Guests are required to uphold the same expectations as all other conference attendees.
- Guests serve as observers.
- They cannot be enrolled university students or faculty advisors and do not provide any support to a delegation. A guest is typically a school official, spouse/partner of a faculty advisor, or a funder who is interested in gaining exposure to NMUN as an observer of the conference.

Dress Code

All clothing must adhere to guidelines that portray professionalism and modesty. If your attire is deemed inappropriate by NMUN staff, you will be asked to leave the session and return with appropriate attire.

- Standard attire for the conference is business jacket, slacks/skirt, dress shirt (with tie for men) and dress shoes.
- Dress sweaters, shorts, ball caps, jeans, sneakers, and sunglasses are considered too casual. Clothes that expose excessive bare skin, reveal undergarments, or are otherwise revealing are inappropriate.
- It is not appropriate to display any national symbols such as flags, pins, crests, etc. on your person during sessions. UN symbols are acceptable.
- Western business dress is preferred. Traditional dress is only permitted for international delegations in whose native countries professional business dress includes traditional cultural dress. NMUN will not tolerate any attempt to portray a character using traditional cultural attire as a costume.

Faculty advisors/team leaders, guests, and volunteer staff serve as role models for delegates. Thus they are also required to dress in western business attire while participating in scheduled conference sessions.

Sexual Harassment & Discrimination

NMUN will not tolerate any instances of sexual harassment or discrimination based on race, gender, sexual orientation, national origin, religion, age, or disability. Anyone who believes they have encountered sexual harassment or discrimination, which results in a hostile working environment or disparate treatment, may bring it to NMUN's attention. We will investigate the merits of the allegations and respond appropriately. Outcomes may include taking no action, issuing a verbal reprimand, separating individuals from the conference, or any other action deemed appropriate.

Safety & Security

Safety and Security is your personal responsibility. Take full advantage of this unique opportunity in a responsible manner. Please do not leave your computer or other personal electronic devices unattended. Remove conference badges when leaving the hotel. Refrain from any sort of substance abuse. Use common sense.

In the event of an emergency in the hotel, follow their guidelines. Emergency preparedness experts recommend having a designated meeting spot outside the hotel and sharing cell phone numbers amongst members of your delegation.

Awards Criteria

National Model United Nations has established criteria for evaluating delegate performance. Each element is equally important to the overall awards determination process. All committees are weighted equally, and delegations are rated on a mathematical formula in relation to the total number of committees represented by the individual Member State.

Areas of evaluation are:

- Remaining in character - defined as advocating your assigned country's position in a manner consistent with economic, social and geopolitical constraints.
- Participating in committee - evaluated both during formal sessions and caucusing.
- Proper use of the rules of procedure - NMUN uses the rules of procedure to facilitate effective workings of committee and debate.

STUDY WITH PURPOSE

“It’s never been more important to study international relations at a school that understands that truth is elusive but real; that history cannot be rewritten to suit today’s preferences; that tradeoffs are inescapable facts of economic life; and that leaders are those who inspire, not those who inflame.”

— ELIOT COHEN, PhD
